

Cybeats to Attend RSA Cybersecurity Conference in San Francisco

TORONTO, April 19, 2024 – Cybeats Technologies Corp. (“Cybeats” or the “Company”)(CSE: CYBT, OTCQB: CYBCF) announces that it is attending RSA<sup>1</sup> in San Francisco from May 6-9. RSA is one of the largest cybersecurity events worldwide, that provides year-round industry collaboration for the cybersecurity community and notably amasses over 45,000 IT security professionals. RSA is a four day conference featuring over 600 over the world’s leading vendors and speakers such as Microsoft, Northrop Grumman, DARPA, US Department of Defence, IBM and Amazon.

Cybeats will be co-hosting its third annual ‘SBOM Meetup’ during the RSA Conference<sup>2</sup>. This meetup is especially geared for IT security professionals and SBOM enthusiasts who want to engage in lively discussions surrounding software supply chain or cybersecurity. The Company already has 100 confirmed executives and employees from the world’s leading technology vendors in attendance for the event.

RSA has been a conference that Cybeats has been successful at garnering significant client attention on its product and brand, and which has consistently led to commercial sales following attendance at RSA. Cybeats’ flagship product, SBOM Studio<sup>3</sup>, is an enterprise class solution that helps organizations understand the security risks within their software, and identify vulnerabilities in open-source components.
